Fundamentals of Interior Design

Interior designers work in a dynamic, imaginative, and complex industry combining technological knowledge with artistic vision. This certificate is intended for individuals interested in the fundamentals of interior design:

- those who are considering interior design as a possible career and are prepared to enter a full-time interior design program upon completion of the certificate
 - those who have a general interest in interior design
- Students should be aware that professional interior designers require membership in the Association of Registered Interior Designers of Ontario www.arido.ca. Membership is extended only to graduates of degree and diploma programs in recognized schools of interior design who have several years' experience and who successfully complete the Association's qualifying examinations.

Admission Requirements

OSSD with six Grade 12 U or M credits (including English and Mathematics), with a minimum average of 60 percent, or equivalent, or mature student status is required.

Students who have no previous experience in two- and three-dimensional creative design must successfully complete CDID 150 prior to registering in their first certificate course.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of seven courses (four required courses and three electives), with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, is required for the certificate. In determining the order of courses within the program, students should note carefully the prerequisite requirements listed with each course.

Certificate Registration

Students may be registered in only one certificate program at any one time. To allow maximum flexibility in crediting external courses and/or courses previously taken at Ryerson, students should register in the certificate at the beginning of their first course (see also Courses and Programs FAQ). For complete details on the advantages of early registration, registration deadlines, and transfer credit restrictions, all students should read Registration in a Certificate Program.

Requirements for Graduation

To graduate, you must successfully complete the published certificate curricula from the year you registered in the certificate. Certificate requirements must be completed within six years from the time you were first admitted into the certificate program. In some circumstances, certificate requirements may change, resulting in courses no longer being available. In such cases, Course Substitutions/Directives may be requested. Also, you must apply on RAMSS to graduate, prior to the appropriate application deadlines (see Important Dates).

Required Courses

- CDID 150 Interior Design: Design Theory
- CDID 151 Interior Design: Interior Design I: Drafting
- CDID 152 Interior Design: Interior Design I: Space Planning

Fundraising Management

This certificate program has been developed to provide students with a sound understanding of the nonprofit and voluntary sector and the role that fundraising can play in support of organizations in this sector. Students will achieve the following:

- increase their understanding and skills in nonprofit sector fundraising management
- learn to plan a campaign
- develop and implement a wide range of strategies and tactics for a successful and ethical operation of a campaign

This program has been developed to prepare aspiring fundraising professionals for career entry, to help managers in nonprofit organizations expand their fundraising skills, and to provide growth and renewal opportunities for experienced professionals.

Gerontology

The Certificate in Gerontology is designed for professionals working with seniors, such as health and medical personnel, nutritionists, occupational therapists, social workers, family counsellors, recreation specialists, community workers, capacity assessors, administrators, urban planners, designers, personnel officers, volunteer workers, and anyone who wishes to learn about the field of gerontology.

The program draws faculty from many schools and departments within Ryerson, including Nursing, Social Work, Nutrition, Sociology, Politics and Public Administration, Psychology, Urban and Regional Planning, Early Childhood Education, and Family Studies. Participation from professionals in business, community services, and government is also an integral part of the Certificate in Gerontology.

The learning objectives of the certificate in Gerontology include the following:

- to comprehend the social, psychological, and biological theories that are applied within the field of gerontology, examining both normal and abnormal age-related changes that occur throughout the lifespan and their impact on practice
- to examine normal and abnormal age-related changes in social, psychological, and biological functioning and evaluate the implications of these changes on the individual's ability to interact with their social and physical environments
- to identify key changes in social roles, social supports, and policies that occur with aging within the areas of work and retirement, social and familial relationships, housing and environmental design, transportation and healthcare, and the law
- to recognize the diversity in aging as it relates to ethnicity, culture, gender, and sexuality and its impact on Canadian demography
- to analyze the current spectrum of cognitive variations associated with aging within the areas of intelligence, problem solving, learning and memory, personality, and mental health
- to identify and define both the quantitative and qualitative research methods, subject sampling techniques, approaches to assessing the validity and reliability of measurement instruments, and the significance of research ethics applied within the field of gerontology

- to identify how each component of a scientific research investigation contributes to the content knowledge within the field of gerontology and apply the appropriate steps to enable data assembly and data analysis
- to systematically interpret and critique research findings within the field and determine their implications for the practice of gerontology, and to examine the future trends in gerontology research and education

IBM Mainframe System z Computing

Mainframe computers are complex hardware systems used by large corporations and government institutions for mission critical applications such as intensive data processing, management information systems, financial transaction processing, manufacturing control systems, and for managing large databases including census statistics and financial data. Mainframe computers are a significant segment of the IBM product line. They are used for large scale simultaneous processing of very large information databases. Security of data warehousing and accuracy of processing are of paramount importance. They require sophisticated and specialized computer programming management and maintenance.

This certificate, developed in partnership with IBM Canada, will provide students with a thorough overview of the Mainframe environment, including hardware systems, workflows, end-user interfaces, programming, and data management. The curriculum is designed to provide graduates with a comprehensive education and practical knowledge in basic and advanced Mainframe computing focused on the z/OS environment.

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/mainframe.

Admission Requirements

Eligible applicants must have completed an undergraduate degree in computer sciences or related field or have clear academic standing in the final year of such a degree program or have significant related employment experience.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Admission Process

Applicants must complete an application for pre-approval and be approved before registering for the first course. Applicants wishing to enroll in the first course must provide a resume listing employment experience, copies of credentials or academic standing, and certification documents. For further information on the program requirements please contact the Program Manager, Janet Shusterman, at 416.979.5000, ext. 7907.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of six courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, is required for the certificate.

Certificate Registration

Students may be registered in only one certificate program at any one time. To allow maximum flexibility in crediting external courses and/or courses previously taken at Ryerson, students should register in the certificate at the beginning of their first course (see also Courses and Programs FAQ). For complete details on the advantages of early registration, registration deadlines, and transfer credit restrictions, all students should read Registration in a Certificate Program.

Image Arts (with specializations in Film Studies, New Media, or Photography Studies)

This certificate is designed to lead to careers in the film, photography, new media, communications, and cultural industries. Graduates should be capable of performing responsibly in these industries as professionals in both creative and managerial positions, and in undertakings ranging from the highly commercial to the artistic and experimental. The curriculum will also provide students with the necessary grounding to move on to advanced study in a variety of media-related academic and artistic disciplines.

This program provides a general background in design, art history, and cultural studies, along with professional specialization in the three areas of Film, New Media, and Photography Studies. There is a strong link between theory and practice in each of these options.

Successful completion of the certificate will make a student eligible to apply for admission to the second year of the related Image Arts degree program, subject to space availability and competition. These students will also be required to take the appropriate Liberal Studies courses.

Film Studies Coordinator: James Warrack,

Information Systems Development

The Certificate in Information Systems Development will not be accepting any new registrants. The certificate has been discontinued effective Fall 2011. Students formally registered in the certificate prior to June 30, 2011, must complete the program requirements in effect at the time they registered. For further information, please contact the Business area at 416.979.5035.

Information Systems Management

Virtually every type of business today relies on information technology. Whether banking online, ordering a pizza, monitoring patients in a hospital, or publishing a newspaper, organizations must develop systems that serve their customers and help them succeed. Computers, the Internet, wireless communications, databases – all are forms of information technology which are used to collect, analyze, and share information. Information systems management examines how this technology can be used effectively in an ever-changing business context. Courses focus on how to develop and manage information systems to meet the strategic needs of business and government. This certificate stands alone as an introduction to the IT management field, but it also provides a smooth transition either to another more specialized certificate or to the Information Technology Management degree program. All courses can be credited toward Ryerson's Bachelor of Commerce (Information Technology Management) degree program.

For further information about the program, please contact The Chang School at 416.979.5035, or attend a Program Open House.

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/itm.

Laboratory Practices Management

This certificate program has been developed for professionals currently practicing or anticipating careers in science related fields. This program has been designed to equip graduates with managerial skills combined with practical knowledge (ranging from safety, environmental awareness, standards and regulations, specialized information technology systems, effective communications, recordkeeping, and technical writing) that laboratory work requires.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must complete an application for pre-approval form, be approved by the academic coordinator, and meet one of the following criteria: Undergraduate degree in a relevant field (e.g., Chemistry, Biology, Physics, or Environmental or Earth Science) with a GPA of 2.0, or equivalent OR

A post-secondary diploma with a GPA of 2.0, or equivalent, subject to the approval of the academic coordinator

OR

Three years of professional practice in a laboratory setting in a technical capacity, subject to the approval of the academic coordinator

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Admission Application

Students seeking admission to this program are required to complete an application for pre-approval and submit it to the academic coordinator. To obtain an application, visit Forms and Documents. The completed application, together with transcripts, may be presented to the academic coordinator during the Open House, or mailed to the address on the form.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of 12 21-hour courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, is required for the certificate.

Landscape Design

Note: Many of the courses in this program are available by distance education.

Landscape Design combines the fields of art, science, and humanities. Landscape designers focus on designing and restoring sustainable public and private outdoor spaces. Their services are sought in the residential, commercial, and public sectors. Whether you are just beginning or continuing your education in Landscape Design, this certificate offers an excellent education in the fundamental components that comprise the field of landscape design. Through course offerings, you will learn how to analyze, plan, design, manage, and sustain the built and natural environment.

Courses are offered in a combination of lectures, field trips, studios, seminars, and other interactive learning opportunities. Our distance education courses continue to be developed and are available on the Internet. Ryerson University and Toronto Botanical Garden have recently developed an educational partnership. A number of courses are now delivered at the Toronto Botanical Garden at 777 Lawrence Avenue East.

Important note to students who formally registered in the certificate prior to July 1, 2009: If you registered in the Certificate in Landscape Design prior to July 1, 2009, you must complete the program requirements that were in effect at the time you registered, please see the Transition Plan. For more information on the changes to the certificate, please see the Landscape Design Changes Presentation.

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/landscape.

See more courses and programs relating to Design or Science and Engineering.

Admission Requirements

Applicants admitted to this program will normally possess a post-secondary undergraduate education (university or college) in a relevant field of study including programs related to architecture and/or environmental sciences or mature student status with relevant work experience.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Note: The Open House session for the Landscape Design certificate program is held along with Engineering, Architecture, and Science.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of six courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, is required for the certificate.

For further information about the program, please contact the Acting Academic Coordinator, Sam Benvie at sbenvie@ryerson.ca.

Note for Current Students:

As of Fall 2009, the Ryerson University Senate has approved revisions to this certificate that result in a change of the number of required courses from 8 to 6, the addition of new courses, and the revision or deletion of existing courses. The Senate also approved that students currently enrolled in this certificate can, if appropriate, be allowed to move to the revised 6 course certificate curriculum.

To move to the revised certificate please complete The G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education Certificate Program Registration/Transfer Form and submit the completed form to The Chang School (marked to the attention of Peter Monkhouse) in person, by fax, by email, or by mail. Once received, The Chang School will review the completed form and let you know which courses you must take to complete the certificate. Note: not all completed courses will apply to the revised certificate. View the letter sent to current certificate learners for more information.

If you have any questions, please contact The Chang School at 416.979.5035 or ce@ryerson.ca to discuss your specific situation.

Certificate Registration

Students may be registered in only one certificate program at any one time. To allow maximum flexibility in crediting external courses and/or courses previously taken at Ryerson, students should register in the certificate at the beginning of their first course (see also Courses and Programs FAQ). For complete details on the advantages of early registration, registration deadlines, and transfer credit restrictions, all students should read Registration in a Certificate Program.

Requirements for Graduation

To graduate, you must successfully complete the published certificate curricula from the year you registered in the certificate. Certificate requirements must be completed within six years from the time you were first admitted into the certificate program. In some circumstances, certificate requirements may change, resulting in courses no longer being available. In such cases, Course Substitutions/Directives may be requested. Also, you must apply on RAMSS to graduate, prior to the appropriate application deadlines (see Important Dates).

Sample Certificate Completion Models

Certificate-completion models offer combinations of courses that have been developed to assist you in completing your certificate in three, four, or six terms. Planning your studies according to one of these models allow you to complete your certificate at a pace suitable to you.

Required Courses

The order in which the required courses are taken should be considered carefully so as to meet the prerequisites for the desired elective courses.

- CKLA 300 Landscape Design: Landscape Design Communications and Theory
- CKLA 310 Landscape Design: Landscape Construction, Materials and Methods
- CKLA 320 Landscape Design: Plant Materials
- CKLA 330 Landscape Design: Landscape Design Studio

Note to registered certificate program students

This certificate has been revised effective July 1, 2009. Students who formally registered in the certificate prior to July 1, 2009, must complete the program requirements in effect at the time they registered.

Leadership and Management for Nurses

Note: Many of the courses in this program are available by distance education.

Nurses are on the front line in terms of professional and organizational transformation. Case or care management, program management, self-management, entrepreneurship, middle and upper management – all of these require nurses to understand the larger system, have a critical consciousness about their place in that system, and an ability to generate and participate in strategies that move the system in the desired direction.

The certificate program is designed for front-line nurses as well as those with functional management responsibilities. The electives that ensure more courses are available are relevant to multiple contexts. Interdisciplinary choices ensure the courses will increase the knowledge and skill nurses need to be effective in their environments.

This eight-course certificate includes four required Nursing courses and four elective courses. These are available at Ryerson through a combination of online and in-class learning, and at our regional access centres located throughout Southern Ontario. Registered nurses can access the certificate by completing the Application for Registration in a Continuing Education Certificate Program and by registering for the courses. Most of the courses in the certificate are a credit in the BScN program. Nurses who already have completed a baccalaureate degree may be eligible for advanced standing within the certificate.

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/nursing.

Admission Requirements

Registered Nurse with a Certificate of Registration from the College of Nurses of Ontario or eligibility for same is required.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of eight single-term courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher (i.e., a minimum grade of C or 63 percent), is required for the certificate.

Regional Access Centres

The expansion of regional access centres, along with flexible timing and delivery modes, is increasing the nursing community's access to Ryerson nursing education. Some of the courses in this certificate are now available at selected agencies in the community. For more information, please see the course descriptions.

Certificate Registration

Students may be registered in only one certificate program at any one time. To allow maximum flexibility in crediting external courses and/or courses previously taken at Ryerson, students should register in the certificate at the beginning of their first course (see also Courses and Programs FAQ). For complete details on the advantages of early registration, registration deadlines, and transfer credit restrictions, all students should read Registration in a Certificate Program.

Requirements for Graduation

To graduate, you must successfully complete the published certificate curricula from the year you registered in the certificate. Certificate requirements must be completed within six years from the time you were first admitted into the certificate program. In some circumstances, certificate requirements may change, resulting in courses no longer being available. In such cases, Course Substitutions/Directives may be requested. Also, you must apply on RAMSS to graduate, prior to the appropriate application deadlines (see Important Dates).

Required Courses

- CNUR 805 Nursing: The Evolution of Theoretical Knowledge

Lighting Design

This multidisciplinary certificate is designed to provide students with the broad knowledge base and wide range of skills required as professionals in the lighting industry. Changes are taking place in the lighting industry, largely centred around increased legislative acts limiting energy budgets for new construction, retrofitting and the need for designing buildings which are environmentally responsible and ergonomically sound, and with enhanced vision for health and safety. New information is available, new technologies have been developed, new methodologies exist, and new questions are emerging as the building industry works toward an integration of architecture, engineering and resource management, and the concerns for health and safety are moved to the forefront in design.

The Certificate in Lighting Design is of particular interest to those persons who are seeking to enhance their knowledge and skill in the art and science of lighting design and who are degree graduates of one of either Architecture or Landscape Architecture, Engineering, Interior Design, or Theatre Design and Production.

Graduates of other programs such as Business, Fashion, and Radio and Television Arts, or individuals without degrees, but with a satisfactory level of education and experience in the lighting industry, may also be eligible with the approval of the academic coordinator.

Admission Requirements

Undergraduate degree or mature student status with related professional experience and education is required.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Course Prerequisites

Successful completion of all stated prerequisites is required for registration in a course. Students who register in a course without successful completion of the prerequisites will be required to withdraw.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The certificate will require the completion of seven courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher.

Certificate Registration

Students may be registered in only one certificate program at any one time. To allow maximum flexibility in crediting external courses and/or courses previously taken at Ryerson, students should register in the certificate at the beginning of their first course (see also Courses and Programs FAQ). Magazine and Web Publishing

Formerly: Magazine Publishing

The Certificate in Magazine and Web Publishing is designed to provide essential knowledge and skills in all aspects of producing a magazine, from writing to editing to ad sales, circulation, and production. Students in the certificate come from various backgrounds:

- those planning a career in the magazine industry, either staff or freelance
 - those working at a magazine and looking to sharpen the skills they use in their job and/or broaden their knowledge of the other disciplines within their company
 - those thinking of starting up their own magazine
- Instructors with extensive experience, all of whom currently work in the field, offer professional-level teaching that combines a solid theoretical base with practical training.

Magazines Canada and the Canadian Business Press recognize the high level of quality and professionalism that Ryerson brings to its Magazine and Web Publishing certificate program.

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/magazine.

Admission Requirements

Undergraduate degree, or mature student status with acceptable professional experience in publishing or a related field is required. You may take individual courses without pursuing the certificate.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Advanced Neuroscience – Stroke Care

This Interprofessional Certificate in Advanced Neuroscience-Stroke Care offers health care providers the opportunity to develop an advanced understanding of evidence-based practices and research across the continuum of neuroscience and stroke client-centred care. Developed by subject matter experts in both the clinical and academic fields, the curriculum ensures industry relevance and recognition. To maximize access for health care professionals, all courses will be delivered through a combination of self-study, online course work, and on-site videoconferencing instruction through the Ontario Telemedicine Network (OTN).

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/neuroscience-stroke.

Program Manager: Paula Mastrilli, ceneuroscience@ryerson.ca or 416.979.5000, ext. 2061.

Admission Requirements

A baccalaureate degree or equivalent in a health-related field of study and a minimum of one years' related professional experience in neuroscience-stroke care.

If an applicant has experience in neuroscience-stroke care and/or is in the process of completing a baccalaureate degree or equivalent, the program manager will assess the applicant's work experience and academic credentials to determine the applicant's admissibility to the program.

Students who wish to enroll in specific courses on a stand-alone basis may do so with permission of the academic coordinator.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Nonprofit and Voluntary Sector Management

Note: All of the courses in this program are available by distance education.

Ryerson has created this distinctive, interdisciplinary certificate program in response to a growing demand for education that focuses on the specialized needs of the sector.

This program is the first undergraduate university certificate program in nonprofit sector management in Canada. It is affiliated with Ryerson’s Centre for Voluntary Sector Studies, which provides a dynamic link to the sector through research, consultation, and educational programming. This unique program offers the following:

- an interdisciplinary curriculum pooling knowledge from three academic disciplines: business management, politics and public administration, and social work
- a practical blend of theory and application taught by academics and practitioners
- a wide range of current and relevant courses covering key areas such as marketing, financial management, fundraising, advocacy, strategic planning, program evaluation, organizational management, and organizational change

Courses are available in a variety of formats including distance via the Internet.

Who Will Benefit

- managers, staff, practitioners and volunteers of nonprofit organizations
- those interested in pursuing careers in the nonprofit sector
- those interested in developing partnerships with nonprofit organizations

Centre for Voluntary Sector Studies: Gerda Kaegi, Academic Coordinator, 416.979.5035.

Photography Studies

Photography has become an important medium of communication in industry, sales and advertising, government, education, the press, and the arts; consequently, there has been a rise in the demand for properly trained and qualified personnel to work in these fields. This certificate program addresses these needs by offering a basic professional program of study in photography for those who wish to upgrade their present level of expertise, retrain or make a career change, establish their own business, improve opportunities for advancement or job placement in photography-related fields, or prepare for entrance into the degree program at an advanced level.

The courses in the certificate program are usually equivalent to one-half or one-quarter of similar courses in the undergraduate degree program. In some cases full credit for an undergraduate degree course may be granted by completing specific certificate courses (see course descriptions). Transfer credit students will not be considered unless they have already taken the Image History, Image Theory, and Visual Studies courses.

Individual Courses

Students not wishing to complete the Certificate in Photography Studies may take individual courses from the certificate program for general interest.

Admission Requirements

OSSD with six Grade 12 U or M credits (including English), with a minimum average of 60 percent, or equivalent, or mature student status with relevant professional experience is required.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Advanced Standing

Mature students may be eligible on the basis of work experience in a relevant field. Applicants possessing higher qualifications will be considered for advanced standing on individual merits.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Program and Portfolio Management

Globalization has caused the market to become more competitive and organizations to become more complex. Both of these factors have created a demand for effective project, program, and portfolio management. This has been heightened by increased pressures presented by the recent economic downturn.

The goal of the Certificate in Program and Portfolio Management is to equip individuals who possess project management experience with the knowledge and skills required to successfully manage programs and portfolios. Inextricably partnered with this goal is that of providing reputable, university-level education which elevates the competency and relative desirability of certificate graduates in the field of project management.

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/ppm.

Admission Requirements

This is an advanced certificate. Eligible applicants must have completed an undergraduate degree and at least six years relevant professional experience. In addition, all applicants must have one of the following: the Ryerson Certificate in Project Management (or an equivalent program) or current standing as a Project Management Professional (PMP) by the Project Management Institute (PMI) (or an equivalent accreditation).

Note: The Program Director may waive the admission requirements if a prospective student has either exceptional work experience or educational qualifications. To see if you qualify, please contact the Program Director at peter.monkhouse@ryerson.ca or attend an Open House session.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Psychology

This certificate program will appeal to students who wish to enhance their career opportunities and/or personal interests. The program provides the opportunity to study and understand human behaviour in a wide variety of settings. It is designed to familiarize students with the methods, concepts, theories, and applications of psychology.

Students may choose electives from a variety of areas in psychology or they may choose to specialize. Suggested specializations include the following: psychological principles of growth and development abnormal aspects of human behaviour explanations of personality and its development the study of social behaviour applications of psychology in organizations

Admission Requirements

OSSD with six Grade 12 U or M credits, or equivalent, or three years of experience in business, community service, or industry are required.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Transfer Credits

Up to four single-term course credits may be granted on the basis of the successful completion of other Ryerson psychology courses or the completion of psychology courses at other post-secondary institutions meeting Ryerson Faculty of Arts requirements. See Transfer Credits.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of eight course credits, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, is required for the certificate. Three courses are compulsory: a foundation course, a research methodology course, and an independent study course. A foundation course must be taken as the first course. The independent study course may be taken only after the foundation course, the research methodology course, and three other courses chosen from the electives have been completed.

Certificate Registration

Students may be registered in only one certificate program at any one time. To allow maximum flexibility in crediting external courses and/or courses previously taken at Ryerson, students should register in the certificate at the beginning of their first course (see also Courses and Programs FAQ). For complete details on the advantages of early registration, registration deadlines, and transfer credit restrictions, all students should read Registration in a Certificate Program.

Requirements for Graduation

To graduate, you must successfully complete the published certificate curricula from the year you registered in the certificate. Certificate requirements must be completed within six years from the time you were first admitted into the certificate program. In some circumstances, certificate requirements may change, resulting in courses no longer being available. In such cases, Course Substitutions/Directives may be requested. Also, you must apply on RAMSS to graduate, prior to the appropriate application deadlines (see Important Dates).

CPSY 300 Psychology: Psychology and Law
CPSY 607 Psychology: Drugs and Human Behaviour

Public Administration and Governance – Level 1 (PADP)

Note: Many of the courses in this program are available by distance education.

Students who wish to obtain their Certificate in Public Administration and Governance or the Advanced Certificate in Public Administration and Governance, must apply through the Office of Undergraduate Admissions for admission to the Public Administration and Governance program. Do not use the standard continuing education certificate application. Upon completing these certificates, students may continue their studies to earn a degree in Public Administration and Governance. Please contact the Program Administrator, Department of Politics and Public Administration, 416.979.5057.

The Certificate and Advanced Certificate in Public Administration and Governance are designed for working public sector employees, students aspiring to careers in the public service, and those interested in gaining knowledge about public administration and public policy in Canada.

These certificates will provide students with the following:

- a better understanding of organizations and operations in the public sector
- the attainment of analytic, administrative, communication, and management skills necessary for career development in the public sector and organizations that deal with it
- an awareness of the political forces that shape public administration and policy

These certificates fulfil Levels 1 and 2 of the Public Administration and Governance degree program. Program Information: Department of Politics and Public Administration, 416.979.5057.

Admission Requirements

OSSD with six Grade 12 U or M credits (including English) with a minimum grade of 60 percent, or mature student status is required.

Grade 13 subjects/OSSHGD may be combined/substituted with OACs/OSSD. Students who present credits from the OSSHG (Grade 13 stream) or in combination with credits from the OSSD (OAC stream) should ensure that the credits satisfy the requirements.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of eight single-term courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, is required. Students working toward a certificate must formally register in the Public Administration and Governance program (see introductory note above).

Certificate Registration

Students may be registered in only one certificate program at any one time. To allow maximum flexibility in crediting external courses and/or courses previously taken at Ryerson, students should register in the certificate at the beginning of their first course (see also Courses and Programs FAQ). Public Administration and Leadership

This program is designed for individuals who have already completed a degree and who wish to deepen their understanding of the key aspects of public sector management. The curriculum is focused on key areas of policy development, public sector finance, collaborative governance, intergovernmental affairs, program evaluation, e-government, and administrative law. A special capstone course focuses on the nature and style of leadership in the public sector.

Admission Requirements

Eligible applicants must have completed an undergraduate degree in any field and submit an Application for Admission to the academic coordinator for approval (an interview might be required). Applicants who do not have a background in politics or public administration and/or no experience in the public sector are encouraged to successfully complete COPA 103 prior to admission in the certificate.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Admission Application

Students seeking admission to this program are required to submit an application for pre-approval to the academic coordinator for the Certificate in Public Administration and Leadership. To obtain an application, visit the Forms and Documents section. The completed application, together with transcripts, may be presented to the academic coordinator during the Open House, or mailed to the address on the form.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

COPA 103 Politics and Public Administration:
Public Administration in Canada

Public Relations

Note: Many of the courses in this program are available by distance education.

If a challenging career consulting with professional businesses, community organizations, or government agencies sounds appealing, then public relations may be for you. Public relations practitioners work with a variety of leaders and other professionals to protect organizational reputation; manage issues and crises; conduct media relations; develop internal and external communication programs; develop and manage communication budgets; and write supporting communication materials such as plans, reports, news releases, business presentations, newsletters, website content, and much more.

Recognized by the Canadian Public Relations Society (CPRS) and the International Association of Business Communicators (IABC), the Certificate in Public Relations provides a curriculum that will hone your practical, analytical, and theoretical skills to prepare you for a career in public relations.

Admission Requirements

Because of increasingly stringent hiring practices and trends in the public relations field, students must have an undergraduate degree or three-year community college diploma; mature students must have, at least, a high school diploma and four years of progressive work experience in public relations practice, or in a business, professional, or technical field.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Course Prerequisites

Successful completion of all stated prerequisites is required for registration in a course. Students who register in a course without successful completion of the prerequisites will be required to withdraw.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of 42-hour courses or the equivalent courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, is required for the certificate.

Publishing

Note: Many of the courses in this program are available by distance education.

This program teaches the skills necessary to publish books successfully. The program will be of interest to the following:

- those who want to enter the publishing industry
- those who are employed in the publishing industry or in areas where publishing skills are required
- those who are working as freelancers in publishing-related fields
- those who wish to upgrade their credentials with a view to career change

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/publishing.

Instructors

Our instructors are respected industry experts. They all work in publishing and bring up-to-date, applied knowledge to every course. Visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/publishinginstructors for current instructor biographies.

Awards

Students registered in the certificate program may apply for the program's awards and bursary:

Visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/publishingawards for more details.

Internships

We have an extensive network of industry partnerships that provide direct links between classroom experience and a career. Visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/publishinginternships to see the companies that may be offering industry internships to students in the program.

Admission Requirements

Undergraduate degree, or mature student status with related professional experience and education, is required.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Notice to Students

Correct use of the English language is essential in the publishing industry. It is therefore an element in the evaluation and grading of assignments.

Students with no background in publishing are strongly recommended to begin by taking either overview course (CDPB 100 or CDPB 200) CDPB 102; CDPB 105; or CDPB 110; and may wish to consider the non-certificate course CDPB 400. Students with full-time positions are advised to register in no more than two credits per term. Specialized half-credit courses require some knowledge of subject or industry. In general, comfort with computers and a knowledge of appropriate software are an asset.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Sustainability

The certificate consists of six courses: three required and three electives. The first required course provides conceptual and theoretical frameworks for understanding how society addresses sustainability issues, and the second required course uses these frameworks to examine sustainability-related issues society faces today. The third required course is a unique capstone course where learners have the opportunity to integrate sustainability's Triple-Bottom Line (TBL or 3BL) – its equal and mutually-reinforcing social, economic, and environmental components – by applying competencies and knowledge acquired throughout the curriculum.

Through three elective courses in specialized streams of Natural Environment, Urban Environment, and Socioeconomics of Sustainability, learners will be equipped with specific knowledge pertinent to their personal goals or professional interests.

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/sustain.

Telecommunications Management

The telecommunications profession in Canada has grown rapidly. With the introduction of competition to the marketplace and the growing need to move voice, image, and data, the demand for qualified professionals in this area is steadily increasing. Graduates of this certificate will have the skills required for positions involving the use, analysis, design, implementation, and management of telecommunications. The certificate will also provide a perspective on the role and function of information systems.

For further information about the program, please contact The Chang School at 416.979.5035, or attend a Program Open House.

For detailed certificate and program information, please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/itm.

Admission Requirements

OSSD with six Grade 12 U or M credits, or equivalent, or mature student status, and basic computer literacy and knowledge of the functions of business.

Undergraduate students wishing to pursue a continuing education certificate program should be aware of possible restrictions; please refer to Curriculum Advising for complete details.

Program Open House

Students who have questions about the admission requirements and/or would like to know more about this certificate are invited to attend a program information session. Please see Open House for dates, times, and location.

Certificate Requirements

The successful completion of six single-term courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, is required for the certificate. Good oral and written communications skills are essential for success in the program.

Credit Policies

Courses may be credited toward the Ryerson Bachelor of Commerce (Information Technology Management) degree program should candidates wish to continue their education after attaining this certificate. See the Ryerson Undergraduate Program Calendar at www.ryerson.ca/calendar for more information.

Up to three course credits may be granted either on the basis of courses successfully completed at other institutions or by writing challenge examinations, which are offered in CITM 315, and CITM 600. Challenge examinations provide the opportunity for applicants with business experience to earn credit and reduce the total number of courses required to complete their certificate program. Only two courses in the certificate can be challenged. All certificate courses are the equivalents or partial equivalents of degree credit courses currently offered by the School of Information Technology Management and are transferable in the event of a student's changing from continuing education student status to program status in the Ted Rogers School of Information Technology Management.

Certificate Registration

Students may be registered in only one certificate program at any one time. To allow maximum flexibility in crediting external courses and/or courses previously taken at Ryerson, students should register in the certificate at the beginning of their first course (see also Courses and Programs FAQ). For complete details on the advantages of early registration, registration deadlines, and transfer credit restrictions, all students should read Registration in a Certificate Program.

Gateway for International Professionals

International Accounting and Finance Professionals (IAFP)

The IAFP program is designed to supplement the prior experience and learning of international accounting and finance professionals with the skills and knowledge required in a Canadian context.

The IAFP program prepares you to compete for jobs at levels appropriate to your previous work experience and skills. The accounting stream is designed to accelerate your path towards membership/certification in professional accounting bodies. The IAFP program offers an innovative system of supports:

- individualized pre-screening and prior learning and competency assessment
- courses specific to accounting and financial services practice in Ontario
- profession and sector-specific communication and soft skills training
- expanded employer networking opportunities
- work placements (if required and available)
- mentoring

For further information and admission requirements, visit the IAFP website at www.ryerson.ca/ce/iafp.

Internationally Educated Dietitians Pre-registration Program (IDPP)

The IDPP is a unique learning opportunity designed to give internationally educated nutrition and food professionals information, advice, referral to career opportunities, language testing and training, and, for those who are qualified, preparation for registration with the College of Dietitians of Ontario (CDO) and Dietitians of Canada (DC).

The IDPP features two main services:

- pre-registration program designed to help internationally educated dietitians prepare for registration and practice in Ontario
- assessment and counselling for internationally educated nutrition and food professionals who are exploring their education and work options

For further information and admission requirements, visit the IDPP website at www.ryerson.ca/ce/idpp.

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program (IMPP)

The International Midwifery Pre-registration Program (IMPP) is a nine-month bridging program. It provides internationally educated midwives with the following:

- skills assessment
- information about how midwives practice in Ontario
- clinical placements
- mentoring
- final pre-registration exam

The IMPP is intended for experienced international midwives, fluent in English, who have practised midwifery within the past five years. It is not a re-education or re-training program. There are limited places available in the IMPP, and the admission process is competitive.

For more information and to find out more about your eligibility for the program, visit the IMPP website at www.ryerson.ca/ce/midwife.

Internationally Educated Social Work Professionals (IESW) Program

Are you an internationally educated social work professional who wants to gain a practical and contextual understanding of Ontario's social services sector?

If so, consider registering in courses within the Internationally Educated Social Work Professionals (IESW) Program at The G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education.

This innovative bridging program is offered nowhere else in Canada. It provides training, mentorship, support, and supervised work placements for qualified social work professionals who were educated outside of Canada.

In just one year, you can achieve the following:

- increase your understanding of how social work is practiced in Ontario and the rest of Canada
- gain social service experience and orientation to the Canadian workplace
- expand your network of social service employers and organizations

The IESW Program has been designed specifically for internationally educated social work professionals who want to work in the social services sector in Ontario. For further information and admission requirements, visit the IESW website at www.ryerson.ca/ce/socialwork.

Workplace Communication in Canada (WCC)

The Workplace Communication in Canada (WCC) program's goal is to maximize the employability (and leverage preparedness for professional bridging programs) of internationally educated professionals by implementing the following:

- a comprehensive assessment of strengths and individual needs (Communication Skills Assessment)
- a workplace-focused curriculum (materials developed in partnership with employers and profession-specific bridging programs)
- an experiential curriculum (using role plays, simulations with actors, workplace scenarios, debate clubs, and group work)

The WCC Communication Skills Assessment ensures entry to the most appropriate level of communication and language program. In order to make this program sector/profession relevant, each of the learning tools and modules will incorporate profession-related materials and experiences.

For further information and admission requirements, visit the WCC website at www.ryerson.ca/ce/wcc.

Urban Agriculture

In order to help students develop their skills and capacity to address global problems, specifically those related to the current global food crisis and climate change, an urban agriculture course series has been developed as part of the elective offerings of The Chang School's Certificate in Food Security. The series will consist of four courses and students who complete them will receive official acknowledgement from the University of having achieved completion.

The four courses, which are all available via distance education, are:

- Understanding Urban Agriculture (CVFN 410) – see sample course outline
- Dimensions of Urban Agriculture (CVFN 411) – see sample course outline
- Urban Agriculture Types (CVFN 412) – see sample course outline
- Urban Agriculture Policy-Making (CVFN 413) – see sample course outline

Students who complete this course series will gain in-depth knowledge of the technical aspects of urban agriculture as well as the policy dimensions and governance issues that must be taken into account in the development of effective urban agriculture systems.

For more information about the Course Series in Urban Agriculture, please view our flyer.

Note: These courses have been developed in partnership with ETC-Urban Agriculture (ETC-UA) and the international network of Resource Centres on Urban Agriculture and Food Security (RUAF).
